Information Development Consultants, Inc. Announces Strategic Partnership with NFP Consultants, Inc. to Launch 4gov® Enterprise Government Business Software

CHICAGO, August 1, 2006. Information Development Consultants (iDC) has announced the signing of NFP Consultants (NFP) as a Premier Value-Added Reseller for iDC's web-based 4gov® Financial Management software. NFP is expanding its market focus to include 4gov for state and local governments.

"We are excited by the opportunity to offer 4gov with its leading-edge technology as an upgrade path for our existing clients and a complete solution for our new prospects" said John Francis, NFP's President and CEO. John added, "4gov's exceptional handling of even the most complicated government requirements together with its zero footprint web design gives us a competitive advantage in any mid-market government opportunity".

4gov does away with the installation, maintenance and upgrade headaches. With over 20 modules to choose from, the system can be easily customized to a government's individual requirements. By opting for the hosted version, the agency's disaster/recovery plan is automatically in place.

Mark Waldschmidt, iDC's Vice President of Sales and Marketing, commented, "NFP's expertise in government software implementations is a tremendous addition to our current knowledge base and implementation resources. With NFP's history of success in the marketplace, partnering allows us to reach more government enterprises in an expedient timeframe".
